Dive In

Go around and let everyone answer...

Tell about an experience or struggle in which you gained the upper hand and confidence, because someone stood beside you and helped you.

Dig Deep

Read Scripture: Joshua 2:1-24

Rahab chose to defy the king, because she and her people had witnessed what God had done for the Israelites over the years. She became willing to make surprisingly bold risks due to her fear, reverence and respect for the God of the spies. In her heart she trusted their word. She became confident that good would come to her and her family, because she believed God would bless the spies and their people.

- What feelings fill your heart when you consider all the blessings God has given you?
- How is it possible that our appreciation for God's promises and blessings causes us to take bold risks for Him?
- Rahab knew she and her family could be killed, due to her decisions and actions. How is it possible for our confidence in God to prompt audacious actions in our lives?
- Rahab said..."According to your words, so be it." Describe the relationship between Rahab's response to the promises of the spies and our response to the promises of God?

Do Big

- Rahab's observation was..."For the Lord your God, He is God in heaven above and on the earth beneath." Accordingly, what might you do this week to be more bold as a servant of God?
