Dive In

Go around and let everyone share...

In Joshua 24:2-13, Joshua gives a summary from Israel's history that showcases the sovereignty and grace of God with sixteen personal pronouns of "I" for God explaining Israel's past deliverance and present inheritance that has been received. As you look back on God's blessings in your life what hope does this give you to live an obedient faithful life following Christ today and in the future?

Dig Deep

Read Scripture: Joshua 24:1-33

- In what ways today can you ensure that you are serving the LORD faithfully today (vs. 14)?
- What do you do to set boundaries to separate yourself from the gods of this world, i.e. busyness, the love of money, possessions, lust, sports, etc.?
- We were created with the freedom to make choices and perhaps the biggest choice to make is who you will follow in life. Joshua issues a challenge to choose who you will follow in Joshua 24:15. Read Romans 6:15-23 and discuss the implications of blessings and curses of this choice of who to follow in this life.
- Joshua makes this public proclamation, "as for me and my household, we will serve the LORD." What benefit would it be for you to make such a public proclamation, to your family, friends and neighbors?

Do Big

- Are you ready to "choose for yourself this day" to commit or recommit to the LORD, His mission and His church? How will you then live out your audacious identity in Christ through your words and deeds today?
